DJJ STATISTICAL SUMMARY

FY 2010 Statistical Summary Information Sheet (pullout).....	207

A Word from the Director...

Greetings,

I am honored to write this opening letter for the first time as Director of the Department of Juvenile Justice. The statistical data gathered for this Data Resource Guide (DRG) has guided me through my first months at the Department.

The information contained within the DRG will serve as a measure of DJJ's past success and a guide for DJJ in its new initiative for the future. Governor Robert F. McDonnell, Secretary of Public Safety Marla Decker and I are determined to find ways to best address the continuing needs of Virginia's youth. As such, we have placed re-entry as an integral part of its mission to protect the public through a balanced approach and comprehensive services that reduce juvenile delinquency.

The Commonwealth of Virginia seeks to improve public safety as it relates to juvenile justice with diversion programs, commitment services and transition opportunities for offenders re-entering into their communities. To be successful, DJJ must gather and analyze the in-depth data contained in the DRG.

Recognizable from the DRG and other data publications, juvenile crime and juvenile commitments are decreasing. We must take every opportunity with the contents herein to identify, maintain and improve the programs that work, and identify and discontinue the programs that do not prove to be successful. Therefore, I ask that every reader of the DRG use it as a guide for the continuation of the reduction of juvenile crime and the increase of services that divert or transition youthful offenders. The DJJ staff worked diligently to compile this data and we solicit your input as to whether we are meeting your needs for information. Please take a moment to complete our online survey. There is a link to the survey on the DJJ website under Resources and then under DJJ Publications.

I would be remiss if I did not conclude this letter with several expressions of gratitude. First, I thank the Department of Criminal Justice Services (DCJS) and the Office of Juvenile Justice Delinquency Prevention (OJJDP) for their role in assisting DJJ with the publishing of the DRG. Second, I thank the staff of DJJ for the work they do daily for juveniles and adults who interact in any manner with DJJ. Lastly, I thank each of you who are taking this valuable opportunity to learn about Virginia's juvenile justice system.

With warm regards,

Helivi L. Holland

Terms and Concepts

Adjudication: if a juvenile is found not innocent, he/she is adjudicated delinquent.

Adjudicatory Hearing: a hearing on the merits of a petition filed pursuant to Va. Code §16.1-260 (alleging a delinquent act, CHINS, or CHINSup).

Blended Sentence: the sentencing option for a juvenile convicted in circuit court, which combines a juvenile disposition with an adult sentence. Va. Code §16.1-272 allows the circuit court to impose an adult sentence and allows a portion of that sentence to be served in a juvenile correctional center (JCC) in accordance with Va. Code §16.1-285.1 (See Serious Juvenile Offender definition). Va. Code §16.1-272 also provides that the judge may suspend the adult sentence pending successful completion of the juvenile disposition.

Certification: a process for transferring a juvenile 14 years of age or older to be tried as an adult in circuit court in the following two ways: (1) if accused of certain violent juvenile felonies, such as murder or manslaughter, the case will be automatically certified to the circuit court after probable cause is found, and (2) if accused of other violent juvenile felonies, the case is certified to the circuit court if the Commonwealth's Attorney files a motion for a preliminary hearing and the judge finds probable cause. Any juvenile convicted in circuit court after certification will be treated as an adult in all future criminal cases. See Va. Code §16.1-269.1.

Child in Need of Services (CHINS): a child whose behavior, conduct, or condition presents or results in a serious threat to the well-being and physical safety of that child. A CHINS also includes a child under the age of 14 who presents a serious threat to the well-being and physical safety of another person. To meet the definition of CHINS, there must be a clear and substantial danger to the life or health of the child or another person, and the intervention of the court is essential to provide the treatment, rehabilitation, or services needed by the child or his/her family. See Va. Code §16.1-228.

Child in Need of Supervision (CHINSup): a child who is habitually and without justification absent from school despite opportunity and reasonable efforts to keep him or her in school. CHINSup also refers to a child who runs away from his or her family or lawful custodian on more than one occasion. See Va. Code §16.1-228.

Commitment: an order by a judge at the dispositional hearing for the placement of a juvenile with DJJ. To be eligible for commitment, a juvenile must be 11 years of age or older and adjudicated delinquent or convicted of a felony offense, a Class 1 misdemeanor and a prior felony, or four Class 1 misdemeanors that were not part of the same incident. The court may commit the juvenile for a determinate or an indeterminate period of time. See Va. Code §16.1-278.8.

Commitment versus Admission: a commitment is a court order placing a delinquent juvenile with DJJ for a determinate or indeterminate period of time. An admission occurs when a juvenile physically arrives at a facility and is officially entered into the facility's rolls. An admission to the Reception and Diagnostic Center (RDC) may occur days/weeks after the juvenile is committed to DJJ (during which time he or she is held in secure detention). A single admission to RDC could be the result of multiple commitments to DJJ (for example, a juvenile may be committed to DJJ by more than one court prior to admission to RDC). For these reasons, the number of commitments to DJJ in a fiscal year will be slightly different from the number of admissions to RDC.

Court Service Unit (CSU): a local or state agency that provides services including intake, investigations and reports, probation, parole, counseling, and other related services in the community.

Detention Assessment Instrument (DAI): a detention screening tool used by CSU intake officers to guide detention decisions using objective criteria. See Appendix K.

Detention Hearing: a judicial hearing held pursuant to Va. Code §16.1-250 that determines whether a juvenile should be placed in detention, continue to be held in detention, or be released until an adjudicatory hearing.

Detention Home or Secure Facility: a local, regional, or state public or private locked residential facility that has construction fixtures designed to prevent escape and to restrict the movement and activities of children held in lawful custody. Detention homes may incarcerate juveniles both prior to trial and as a dispositional alternative. See Va. Code §16.1-248.1, §16.1-278.8, and §16.1-284.1.

Detention Placements versus Detention Admissions: a detention placement is based on a decision made by an intake officer or judge to detain a juvenile. A detention admission occurs when a juvenile physically enters a facility either through direct placement or through transfer. Therefore, during one detention placement, a juvenile may have several detention admissions.

Determinate Commitment: the commitment of a juvenile, 14 years of age or older, to DJJ as a serious offender. The court specifies the length of the commitment, has continuing jurisdiction over the juvenile, and must conduct periodic reviews if the juvenile remains in direct care for longer than 24 months. A juvenile can be committed to a JCC as a serious offender for up to seven years, not to exceed the juvenile's 21st birthday. See Va. Code §16.1-285.1.

Direct Care: the time during which a resident, who is committed to DJJ pursuant to Va. Code §16.1-272 or subsections A 14 or A 17 of Va. Code §16.1-278.8, is under the supervision of staff in a juvenile residential facility operated or contracted for by DJJ.

Direct Indictment: when the attorney for the Commonwealth seeks a direct indictment in the circuit court for trial as an adult after the juvenile court does not find probable cause for certification on a violent juvenile felony. See Va. Code §16.1-269.1(D).

Dispositional Hearing: a hearing in a juvenile case which occurs after the juvenile is adjudicated delinquent. During this hearing, the court may impose treatment services and sanctions. The dispositional hearing is similar to a sentencing hearing in a criminal court. See Va. Code §16.1-278.8.

Diversion: a juvenile offender is diverted out of the official court process, and the case is handled informally. The intake officer must develop a diversion plan that exhausts all community resources including counseling, informal supervision, restitution, community service, and other programs. The juvenile and his parents must agree to the diversion plan. Informal supervision is limited to 90 days. See Va. Code §§16.1-227 and 16.1-260.

Domestic Relations: all matters before the juvenile and domestic relations district court having to do with the family and child welfare including, but not limited to, child custody, visitation, paternity, and other petitions delineated in Va. Code §16.1-241.

Fiscal Year (FY): the time period measured from July 1 of one year to June 30 of the following year. For this report, FY 2010 runs from July 1, 2009, through June 30, 2010.

Group Home: a juvenile residential facility that is a community based, home-like single dwelling, or its acceptable equivalent, other than the private home of the operator, and does not exceed the capacity approved by the regulatory authority. Placements can be pre- or post-dispositional.

Halfway House: a residential facility housing juveniles in transition from direct care that provides services including independent living skills, employment skills, and work experience.

Indeterminate Commitment: the commitment of a juvenile to DJJ in which the juvenile's length of stay is calculated based on statutory requirements and the Length of Stay Guidelines issued by the Board of Juvenile Justice. Parameters for this commitment include the juvenile's 21st birthday and a 36-month statutory maximum length of stay for all offenses except murder or manslaughter. See Va. Code §§16.1-285 and 16.1-278.8(14).

Intake Case: a juvenile with one or more intake complaints involving a delinquent act, a CHINS, or a CHINSup.

Intake Complaint: a request for the processing of a petition to initiate a case in a juvenile and domestic relations district court. An intake officer at the CSU decides whether the complaint will result in diversion or the filing of a petition initiating formal court action.

Juvenile Correctional Center (JCC): a secure facility operated by or under contract with DJJ where 24-hour-per-day care is provided to individuals under the direct care of the Department. Services provided during this period include supervision, education, treatment services, recreational services, and a variety of special programs.

Length of Stay (LOS) Guidelines: a framework established by the Board of Juvenile Justice, as mandated by Va. Code § 66-10, to determine the length of time a juvenile indeterminately committed to the Department will remain in direct care. Factors that affect a resident's LOS include the seriousness of the offense, the juvenile's history of offense behavior, the juvenile's behavior while in direct care, and the juvenile's progress toward completing treatment goals. See Appendix E.

Parole: a period of supervision and monitoring of a juvenile in the community following his or her release from commitment.

Petition: a document filed with the court by the intake officer alleging that a juvenile is delinquent, a CHINS, a CHINSup, or an abused or neglected child. A petition may also be for domestic relations purposes asking that the court assume jurisdiction over the child. A petition initiates formal court action.

Post-Dispositional Detention with Programs: structured programs of treatment and services given to youth who have been sentenced by a judge. Programs are typically designed for up to six months and are intended to maintain and build community ties. To be eligible for post-dispositional detention, a juvenile must be 14 years of age or older and found to have committed a nonviolent juvenile felony or a Class 1 or Class 2 misdemeanor offense that is punishable by confinement in a state or local secure facility. See Va. Code §§16.1-278.8(A16) and 16.1-284.1(B).

Post-Dispositional Detention without Programs: the sentencing of a juvenile by a judge to a detention facility for up to 10 days or up to 30 days without full services being provided. Va. Code §§16.1-284.1, 16.1-291, and 16.1-292 provide additional statutory criteria that need to be satisfied prior to placement.

Pre-Dispositional Detention: the confinement in a secure facility while a juvenile is awaiting a court disposition. To be eligible to be detained prior to disposition, the judge, intake officer, or magistrate must find probable cause establishing that the juvenile committed a Class 1 misdemeanor or a felony offense. In addition, the juvenile must be a clear and substantial threat to another person, the property of others, or to himself. Va. Code §16.1-248.1 provides additional circumstances in which a juvenile may be detained.

Pre-Disposition Report: the document prepared (1) within the timelines established by approved procedures when ordered by the court, (2) for each juvenile placed on probation supervision, (3) for each juvenile committed to the Department or placed in post-dispositional detention with programs, or (4) upon written request from another CSU when accompanied by a court order. The report must include the identifying and demographic information for the juvenile: current offense and prior court involvement; social, medical, psychological, and educational information about the juvenile; information about the juvenile's family; and dispositional and treatment recommendations if permitted by the court.

Probation: the court-ordered supervision of an offender in the community for a specified length of time and requiring compliance with specified rules and conditions.

Psychotropic Medication: drugs that affect the mind/perception, behavior, and mood. Common types include antidepressants, anxiolytics or anti-anxiety agents, antipsychotics, and mood stabilizers.

REACH: a behavior modification program instituted in the JCCs that involves concepts of responsibility, empowerment, achievement, change, and hope.

Recidivism: as defined by the Department, a recidivist is a person who is found by a court to have committed, after being (a) placed on probation or (b) released from confinement, a delinquent or criminal act other than violation of probation or parole. See also Reoffending.

Region: in order to better manage the use of community resources statewide, the Department divides Virginia into three geographical Regions: Region I (Western), Region II (Northern), and Region III (Eastern). See page 19 for a description of the Regions.

Reoffending (Measures of): three measures used in this document are (1) Rearrest- a petition filed at intake for a new delinquent complaint or an adult arrest for a new criminal offense; (2) Reconviction- a guilty adjudication for a delinquent or criminal offense, which is the only measure of reoffending that meets DJJ's definition of recidivism; and (3) Reincarceration- any return to incarceration in a JCC or adult facility after having been previously released from a JCC.

Resident: any juvenile or adult who is committed to DJJ residing in a JCC, housed in a detention home, or resides in a group home on a 24-hour per day basis.

Risk Assessment Instrument: scored tool to provide an objective estimate of an individual's risk for reoffending. See Appendix H.

Serious Juvenile Offender: a resident who is committed to the Department and given a determinate commitment as a serious offender under Va. Code §16.1-285.1.

Shelter Care: a facility or emergency shelter specifically approved to provide a range of services, as needed, on an individual basis not to exceed 90 days. See Va. Code §16.1-248.1.

Status Offense: an act prohibited by law that would not be an offense if committed by an adult, such as truancy, curfew violation, or running away.

Temporary Detention Order (TDO): issuance of an order by a judge, magistrate, or special justice providing for the inpatient hospitalization of a juvenile, after an in-person evaluation by a mental health evaluator, when it is found that (i) because of mental illness, the minor (a) presents a serious danger to himself or others to the extent that severe or irreversible injury is likely to result, as evidenced by recent acts or threats, or (b) is experiencing a serious deterioration of his ability to care for himself in a developmentally age-appropriate manner, as evidenced by delusionary thinking or by a significant impairment of functioning in hydration, nutrition, self-protection, or self-control; and (ii) the minor is in need of compulsory treatment for a mental illness and is reasonably likely to benefit from the proposed treatment. ATDO is for a brief period of time (96 hours) to allow for acute care (to avoid an involuntary commitment, if possible) and a more thorough evaluation (for preparation of the pre-screening report for the involuntary commitment hearing). See Article 16 of Chapter 11 of Title 16.1 of the Va. Code (§16.1-335 et seq.).

Transfer: if a juvenile 14 years of age or older is accused of any felony other than a violent juvenile felony, the Commonwealth's Attorney may file a motion for the juvenile and domestic relations district court to conduct a transfer hearing. The purpose of the hearing is to decide if the juvenile should remain under the jurisdiction of the juvenile and domestic relations district court or be transferred to the circuit court to be tried as an adult. The judge must determine that the act would be a felony if committed by an adult and must also examine issues of competency and the juvenile's history. Any juvenile convicted in circuit court after transfer will be treated as an adult in all future criminal cases. See Va. Code §16.1-269.1.

Violent Juvenile Felony: any of the delinquent acts enumerated in Va. Code subsection B or C of §16.1-269.1 when committed by a juvenile 14 years of age or older. The offenses include murder, felonious injury by mob, abduction, malicious wounding, malicious wounding of a law-enforcement officer, felonious poisoning, adulteration of products, robbery, carjacking, rape, forcible sodomy, and sexual object penetration. See Va. Code §16.1-228.

Waiver: a request initiated by a juvenile 14 years of age or older (with the written consent of his counsel) prior to the adjudicatory hearing for a felony charge that seeks to waive the jurisdiction of the juvenile and domestic relations district court and have the case transferred to the circuit court. See Va. Code §16.1-270.

Weekender: a juvenile sentenced by a judge to serve a certain number of days in post-dispositional detention on weekends. The juvenile remains in school during the week and, typically, resides in the detention home from Friday after school through Sunday evening.

Youth Assessment & Screening Instrument (YASI): a validated tool which provides an objective classification of an individual's risk of reoffending, specific areas that contribute to that risk, and protective factors. YASI looks at both static and dynamic risk and protective variables in 10 distinct functional domains. See Appendix H.

A Note to Readers

This report uses a number of terms and concepts that may be unfamiliar to the reader or may be defined specifically for DJJ. It is strongly recommended that the reader review the information included in the Terms and Concepts section above, as well as the information included in Appendices D, E, I, and J. A review of this information should assist the reader in understanding the data reported in this Data Resource Guide. Also, readers should note that data reported for prior years in previous editions of this publication may be slightly different from data reported this year. These slight discrepancies are due to data cleaning and information updates that occur throughout the year.

An Overview of the Virginia Department of Juvenile Justice

King William Courthouse (9th District CSU)

Introduction to the Virginia Department of Juvenile Justice

To accomplish its Mission, the Virginia Department of Juvenile Justice (DJJ) provides an integrated approach to juvenile justice. It brings together current research and best practices to better understand and modify delinquent behavior; to meet the needs of offenders, victims, and communities; and to manage activities and resources in a responsible and proactive manner.

A BALANCED APPROACH

DJJ responds to juvenile offenders through a balanced approach that provides: (1) protection of public safety by control of a juvenile's liberty through secure confinement and/or community supervision; (2) a structured system of incentives and graduated sanctions in both institutional and community settings to ensure accountability for the juvenile's actions; and (3) a variety of services and programs that build skills and competencies (e.g., substance abuse treatment, support for academic and vocational education, aggression management classes) to enable the juvenile to become a law-abiding member of the community upon release from DJJ's supervision.

INDIVIDUALIZED, RISK-BASED SERVICES

DJJ is committed to the principle that the greatest impact on juvenile offending can be realized by focusing resources on those juvenile offenders with the highest risk of reoffending and by addressing the individual criminogenic risk factors that contribute to the initiation and continuation of delinquent behavior. Using a set of research- and consensus-based instruments at different decision points within the juvenile justice system, DJJ classifies juveniles into different levels of risk. These points include the initial decision to detain, the assignment to various levels of community probation or parole supervision, and the classification of committed juveniles to guide appropriate placement within the institutional setting.

In addition to the matching of the most intensive resources to those juveniles with the highest risk, DJJ recognizes that successful responses to juvenile crime require tailored, individualized responses to the needs of juveniles, families, and communities. The presence of specific risk factors are assessed and addressed in order to increase the likelihood of successful outcomes. Issues implicated in juvenile offending include gang involvement, substance abuse, aggression management, truancy, and other school-related problems. The application of appropriate social control and sanctioning strategies such as electronic monitoring, urine drug testing, and various levels of supervision are also matched to the juvenile's individualized circumstances. Incentives such as early release from supervision, extended curfew, and tangible rewards such as recreational outings with volunteers are used to reward success and improve the chances of long-term behavior change.

DATA-DRIVEN MANAGEMENT

Over the past several years, DJJ has greatly enhanced its ability to effectively plan for and manage juveniles, programs, services, and other resources. DJJ designed functional management information systems and used the data generated and reported from these systems to better understand the offender population, activities in relation to those

MISSION OF THE VIRGINIA
DEPARTMENT OF JUVENILE JUSTICE

To protect the public through a balanced approach of accountability and comprehensive services that prevent and reduce delinquency through partnerships with families, schools, communities, law enforcement, and others, while providing opportunities for delinquent youth to become responsible and productive citizens.

offenders, and methods to become more effective and efficient. The Juvenile Tracking System (JTS) is comprised of modules covering the full range of institutional and community-based activities. DJJ's philosophy is that sound management of public resources and adherence to its core Mission cannot be accomplished without input provided from comprehensive data-based practices.

COMMUNITY PARTNERSHIPS

While DJJ has the primary responsibility for many aspects of Virginia's juvenile justice system, collaborative partnerships with state and local agencies and programs, as well as with private sector service providers, are the cornerstone of the DJJ approach. Local governments operate a network of secure detention facilities and an array of services addressing each aspect of the balanced approach. Within each community, DJJ works with law enforcement, behavioral health providers, schools, social services, and other agencies. Securing services from private providers assists DJJ in meeting the needs of juvenile offenders, their families, and communities. At the state level, DJJ works with other executive, legislative, and judicial branch agencies in a similar manner.

Through the application of the integrated approach to juvenile justice, DJJ continues to make a difference in the lives of citizens and communities across the Commonwealth. Through responsible resource management, performance accountability, and sound intervention strategies, DJJ strives to improve and meet the changing demands of juvenile justice practice.

Organizational Chart As of JUNE 30, 2010

Agency Organization

Historical Timeline Highlights

Fiscal Years 1989-2011

STEPS IN THE JUVENILE JUSTICE SYSTEM

1. The juvenile enters the system when an offense is committed and reported by a parent, citizen, agency complaint, or the police.
2. If the juvenile entered the system through police contact, a decision is made to either counsel and release the youth back to the community or to arrest. If a parent, citizen, or agency made the complaint, the complaint goes to intake.
3. An intake officer at the court service unit makes the decision whether to take informal action such as crisis-shelter care, detention outreach, or counseling; to take no action; or to file a petition. In some cases, a police officer or the original complainant will appeal to the magistrate if they disagree with the intake officer's decision. The magistrate must certify the charge, and the matter is returned to intake to file a petition.
4. Once a petition has been filed, an intake officer decides if the juvenile should be detained or released to his or her parents/guardians. The decision is based on the juvenile's risk to self, community, or flight and is guided by completion of the Detention Assessment Instrument (see Appendix K).
5. If the decision is made to detain the juvenile, a detention hearing is held within 72 hours in the juvenile and domestic relations district court to determine the need for further detention and examine the merits of the charges.
6. A preliminary hearing is held to ensure that the case has enough merit to carry it to trial. Issues of competency, insanity, subpoenas, and witnesses are addressed also. If no probable cause exists, the case is dismissed. If cause is determined, the case moves to the adjudicatory hearing. Also during this phase, issues of transfers and waivers are addressed by the court. If certification is ordered or a direct indictment issued, the case goes to the circuit court (see step 13).
7. Delinquency is determined at the adjudicatory hearing. Witnesses and testimony are presented similar to an adult trial. If found not delinquent, the case is dismissed. If found delinquent, a dispositional hearing is held.
8. At the dispositional hearing, the pre-disposition report is used to assist the judge with information to determine the most appropriate options for the case. The court decides if the juvenile will be committed to DJJ or face community sanctions such as warnings, restitutions, or fines. A conditional disposition may be imposed such as probation, which includes participation in CSU programs, or referral to local services or facilities, to other agencies, to private placement, or to post-dispositional detention. Once the requirements have been met, the juvenile is released by the court.
9. If committed to DJJ, the juvenile must undergo psychological, educational, social, and medical evaluations conducted at RDC.
10. From RDC, the juvenile may go to a privately operated residential facility or a juvenile correctional center (JCC). At the JCC, a committed juvenile receives 24-hour supervision, education, treatment services, recreational services, and a variety of special programs.
11. After completion of the commitment period, a juvenile may be placed on parole or directly released. During parole, the juvenile transitions to the community through agency program efforts and is afforded local services. Some juveniles may need 24-hour residential care and treatment services provided by a halfway house. Upon completion of parole or entry into the adult criminal justice system, the youth is discharged from the juvenile system.
12. A case may be sent into the appeals process following the dispositional hearing. After presentation to the circuit court, the case is reconsidered and the issue of delinquency is examined. If the juvenile is found not delinquent, the case is dismissed. If found delinquent, the circuit court judge administers an appropriate juvenile disposition.
13. If the circuit court received the case through a direct indictment, a trial will take place. If found not guilty, the case is dismissed. If found guilty, the judge will decide whether to render a juvenile disposition or an adult sentence.

DJJ Operating Expenditures, FY 2010

GENERAL FUND EXPENDITURES	$189.2 MILLION
NON-GENERAL FUND EXPENDITURES	$ 4.2 MILLION
TOTAL FY 2010 EXPENDITURES	$193.4 MILLION

During the fiscal year ending June 30, 2010, the Department expended a total of $193.4 million. Of this amount, 25% was in transfer payments to localities for VJCCCA, local detention, and locally run CSUs.

DJJ Training Unit

The DJJ Training Unit is responsible for providing or facilitating training for the 3,000+ employees and affiliates of the Department. The unit's mission is to provide quality training that addresses specific job functions and duties, matches the experience level of the participants, responds to current topics and trends, and assists individuals in meeting their annual training requirements. Organized as a centralized unit, training is delivered in each of the three geographical regions, as well as in Richmond where the main training facility, Cedar Lodge, is located. On average, each biannual calendar offers 300 training dates in 62 topical areas. The unit supports DJJ's mission by implementing, supporting, or facilitating programs for each division.

Statewide Initiatives:

LMS – The DJJ Knowledge Center, DJJ's Learning Management System (LMS), manages training through a variety of avenues. It allows the Training Center to manage classes, instructors, locations, and training records. It provides a streamlined system of measuring performance outcomes and the applicability of classes/resource materials. It allows managers, supervisors, and the Certification Unit to access records and reports to insure compliance with regulations, policies, and procedures. All employees will benefit from this system with the following options available: online registration; directions to training locations; online classes and immediate course credit; immediate online access to student transcripts; online research using juvenile and criminal justice links; access to policies, procedures, regulations, resource material, and "Frequently Asked Questions;" survey assessments; and access to a criminal justice glossary.

MVP – The Managing Virginia Program (MVP) is a state-wide initiative to standardize training for the Commonwealth's managers and supervisors. DJJ is one of 41 agencies involved in establishing management competencies/criteria and developing a range of training opportunities for managers and supervisors. In response to the pending mandate from the Commonwealth, DJJ has designed a Toolkit for the Supervisors Program to meet core competencies. All newly hired and promoted supervisors have the opportunity to attend this course within the first 90 days of hire/promotion.

Reporting on Race and Ethnicity

Demographic information provides a method of examining what a certain population "looks like" over time and is typically inclusive of variables such as age, sex, and race. The value of such information is unquestionable, and when discussing juvenile offenders, it can be particularly useful. In the past, DJJ has collected and reported racial demographics including the category of Hispanic. According to the U.S. Census Bureau, however, "The federal government considers race and Hispanic origin to be two separate and distinct concepts" (Census 2000 Brief: Overview of Race and Hispanic Origin Issued March 2001). In an effort to ensure the most accurate data collecting and reporting, DJJ modified its data collection and applied these changes retroactively. Since the beginning of FY 2008, the Juvenile Tracking System has offered new data entry options that separate race from ethnicity to effectively allow a juvenile to be counted as both black and Hispanic, for example. To apply these changes to the existing data in the system, any juvenile who was previously categorized as Hispanic race was recoded as an unknown race (since it would be impossible to determine the actual race retroactively) and given the ethnicity designation of Hispanic.

The changes to current and past data collection impact how the information is presented in the Data Resource Guide. Racial information for previous years will change due to the recategorization discussed above, and this change is notable in the category of "Other" since it now also captures anyone previously counted as having a Hispanic race. When reviewing demographic data throughout this book, it is important to note that while it is an option to show a juvenile's race as white or black and ethnicity as Hispanic – some data may still reflect Hispanic juveniles as having a racial category of "Other." As familiarity with this new option increases and additional training is conducted, it is expected that the data will reflect racial distinctions that expand beyond the "Other" category.

Community Programs

Chesterfield Youth Group Home offers a boxing training program run by volunteers from the Virginia Association of USA Boxing. The philosophy is that organized sports, such as boxing, instill confidence, sportsmanship, and discipline in youth, coupled with the health benefits of physical activity.

Introduction to Community Programs

The Community Programs Section of the Division of Operations is responsible for providing a continuum of community-based services to juvenile offenders. The following briefly describes these services:

COURT SERVICE UNIT FUNCTIONS

Juvenile Intake

Intake services are provided 24 hours a day at each of the 35 court service units (CSUs) across the state. The intake officer on duty has the authority to receive, review, and process complaints. This may result in diversion and referral to other community resources for appropriate juveniles charged with less serious offenses.

Based on the information gathered, a determination is made for whether or not a petition should be filed with the Juvenile and Domestic Relations District Court and, if so, whether or not the juvenile should be released to a parent or another responsible adult, placed in a detention alternative, or detained pending a court hearing. Decisions by DJJ intake officers concerning detention are guided by the completion of the Detention Assessment Instrument (DAI). Implemented in November 2002, the DAI guides detention decisions using standard criteria (See Appendix K). An evaluation of the initial implementation of this instrument was completed in 2004, and a validation study was completed in 2006.

Investigations and Reports

Social histories make up the majority of the reports completed by CSU personnel. These investigations describe the social adjustment and circumstances of youth. Some are court-ordered prior to disposition while others are completed following placement on probation as required by DJJ standards. A risk assessment instrument is completed at the same time as the social history, classifying the juveniles according to their relative risk of reoffending. Beginning in 2008, DJJ began the process of implementing the Youth Assessment & Screening Instrument (YASI). The YASI is an enhanced risk/needs assessment tool which on July 1, 2010 replaced the previous risk assessment instrument. (See Appendix H for both instruments.) The information in the social history and risk assessment provides the basis for CSU personnel to develop appropriate services for the juvenile and the family, determine the level of supervision needed based on risk classification, and make recommendations to the court regarding the most appropriate disposition for the case.

Other reports and investigations completed by CSU personnel may include substance abuse evaluations, case summaries to the Family Assessment and Planning Teams under the Comprehensive Services Act, commitment packets for the Reception and Diagnostic Center, interstate compact reports, transfer reports, and ongoing case documentation.

Domestic Relations & Custody Investigations

In addition to handling delinquency and Child in Need of Service/Supervision complaints, CSUs provide intake services for domestic relations complaints. These complaints include non-support, family abuse, determination of custody (permanent and temporary), abuse and neglect, termination of parental rights, visitation rights, paternity, and emancipation. In some CSUs, services such as treatment referral, supervision, and counseling are provided in adult cases of domestic violence. Although the majority of custody investigations for the court are performed by the local Department of Social Services, some CSUs perform investigations to provide recommendations to the court on parental custody and visitation based on the best interests of the child and defined criteria in the Code of Virginia.

Probation

The most frequently used disposition for juveniles is probation supervision. Juvenile probation in Virginia strives to achieve a balanced approach, focusing on the principles of community protection (public safety), accountability, and competency development. DJJ provides a risk-based system of probation, with those juveniles classified as highest risk to reoffend receiving the most intensive supervision levels.

Community Service Coordinator Veda Frazier discusses the rules of Outreach Detention with a juvenile at the 9th CSU.

Parole

Upon release from state commitment, most offenders are placed on parole supervision. With planning initiated when a juvenile is committed to DJJ, parole supervision is designed to assist in the successful transition back to the community. Parole builds on the programs and services the juvenile received during the period of secure confinement. Parole supervision is organized around the balanced approach. Protection of public safety is emphasized through a level system of supervision based on the juvenile's assessed risk of reoffending and adjustment to rules and expectations. The period of parole varies according to the juvenile's needs, level of risk, offense history, and adjustment. Supervision may last until the juvenile's 21st birthday.

Parole officers are assigned to offenders to provide case management services, facilitate appropriate transitional services, and monitor adjustment to the community. Juveniles may receive family and individual counseling, referral to other community services, vocational services, or specialized educational services. These services are provided statewide by a network of approved vendors from which the CSUs purchase programs and services for paroled juveniles and their families.

INTERSTATE COMPACT ON JUVENILES (ICJ)

The ICJ Unit provides for the cooperative supervision of probationers and parolees moving from state to state and the return of runaways, absconders, and escapees. In 2008, a new compact was enacted forming the Interstate Commission for Juveniles. Virginia and 41 other states are currently members. The ICJ governs each member state as to the provision of proper supervision or return of juveniles, delinquents, and status offenders on probation or parole who have absconded, escaped, or runaway and in so doing have endangered their own safety or the safety of others. It is the responsibility of each member state to provide supervision and services to ICJ cases using the same standards that prevail for its own juveniles placed on probation or parole supervision.

VIRGINIA JUVENILE COMMUNITY CRIME CONTROL ACT (VJCCCA)

Funding is provided to local governments through VJCCCA to design and implement services to meet the needs of juveniles before the court in their localities. With a plan approved by the Board of Juvenile Justice, localities may purchase or develop and operate an array of programs and services that may be pre- or post-dispositional and occur in both residential and/or non-residential settings.

COMPREHENSIVE SERVICES ACT (CSA)

Developed to help at-risk youth and families, the CSA is a child-centered, community-based, collaborative system of services and funding. CSUs may refer juveniles to local, interdisciplinary Family Assessment and Planning Teams (FAPT). Representatives from DJJ, by law, are members of the local FAPT. When local funding is available, the FAPT will assess a youth's strengths and needs in order to develop and implement a service plan to meet those needs.

DETENTION

All secure detention facilities are operated by local governments or multi-jurisdictional commissions. DJJ provides partial funding for construction and operations and serves as the regulatory agency for these facilities. These physically secure centers provide temporary care for delinquents and alleged delinquents who require secure custody pending a court appearance. Educational instruction (including remedial services) is mandatory within 24 hours of any youth being detained and is provided by the locality in which the detention facility is located (funded by the Department of Education). Program components include medical and mental health screening, recreational and religious activities, and parental or guardian visitation.

Many detention programs provide secure custody and services for post-dispositional delinquents as an alternative to state commitment pursuant to Va. Code §16.1-284.1. Juveniles may be sentenced to a post-dispositional program for up to 180 days. In these, treatment services are coordinated by the detention facility, the CSU, local mental health and social service agencies, and the juvenile's family.

Personal growth through hard work and cooperation is a goal of the horticultural classes at Merrimac Center's Post-Dispositional Detention Program. Residents enjoy the fruits of their labor, literally and figuratively, at the completion of their stay.

These services are tailored to meet the specific needs of that juvenile. Examples of facility-based and community-based services for post-dispositional youth include anger management, substance abuse education and treatment, life skills, vocational education, community service, restitution, and victim empathy. During FY 2010, 17 facilities had post-dispositional programs: Blue Ridge, Chesapeake, Chesterfield, Fairfax, Highlands, James River, Loudoun, Lynchburg, Merrimac, New River Valley, Newport News, Norfolk, Northern Virginia, Northwestern, Rappahannock, Virginia Beach, and W.W. Moore. Out of 1,425 licensed secure detention beds in FY 2010, 218 beds were dedicated to post-dispositional detention. Recidivism rates for post-dispositional programs are provided in the Reoffense Rates section.

HALFWAY HOUSES

During FY 2010, the Department operated three halfway houses. On July 1, 2010, one of these facilities was closed, leaving two remaining programs. The halfway houses are designed to provide transitional living arrangements and skill development to juveniles released from the JCCs.

Each halfway house program is designed to take advantage of the unique resources available in its community to meet the needs of the residents. Upon completion of the program, the resident will have gained additional skills to promote a continued positive adjustment and reduce the risk of recidivism. Recidivism rates are provided in the Reoffense Rates section.

* Offense data for new probation cases is not comparable to Data Resource Guides prior to 2008. Since then, multiple offenses per probation case have been recorded.

• To account for variations in reporting across jurisdictions, a single intake case includes all complaints reported for a single juvenile, on a single day, within a single locality.

• Between FY 2008 and FY 2010:

- Juvenile Intake Cases decreased 12.1%.
- New Probation Cases decreased 16.6%.
- Pre-Dispositional Detention Placements decreased 25.8%.
- Commitments to DJJ decreased 19.1%.

Virginia Juvenile Community Crime Control Act (VJCCCA)

A legislative study on the lack of alternatives to detention and substantial revisions to the juvenile code led the 1995 session of the Virginia General Assembly to pass the Virginia Juvenile Community Crime Control Act (VJCCCA) “to establish a community-based system of progressive intensive sanctions and services that correspond to the severity of offense and treatment needs” (Va. Code §16.1-309.2). The purpose of VJCCCA is “to deter crime by providing immediate, effective punishment that emphasizes accountability of the juvenile offender for his actions as well as reduces the pattern of repeat offending.”

Since January 1996, funding has been allocated to each local governing body (an independent city or county) through a formula based on factors including number and types of arrests in a locality and average daily cost for serving a child. In order to maintain their commitment to youth, participating localities must maintain the same level of contribution to these programs that they made in 1995.

LOCALITIES DEVELOP PLANS

To participate in VJCCCA, each jurisdiction must develop a plan for how it will use the funding and have that plan approved by the Board of Juvenile Justice. Some localities have combined programs and funding across jurisdictions. Communities are given substantial autonomy and flexibility to address local juvenile crime patterns. Development of the plan requires consultation with judges, CSU directors, and Comprehensive Services Act (CSA) Community Policy and Management Teams (an interagency body that manages the expenditure of CSA state funding to serve children and families). The local governing body designates who will be responsible for managing the plan. In over one-half of the localities, this responsibility has been delegated to the CSU.

All funding must be used to serve “juveniles before intake on complaints or the court on petitions alleging that the juvenile is a child in need of services, child in need of supervision or delinquent” (Va. Code §16.1-309.2). Local governing bodies may provide services directly or purchase them from other public or private agencies. No specific types of programs or services are required, although a menu of permissible activities is in place. The intent is for programs and services to be developed to fit the needs of each locality.

PROGRAMS INCLUDED

In FY 2010, VJCCCA served over 11,000 youth through residential and non-residential programs and services, including group homes; family-oriented group homes; crisis intervention and shelter care; outreach detention and electronic monitoring; intensive supervision; case management; substance abuse assessment and treatment; sex offender assessment and treatment; mental health assessments; individual, group, and family counseling; home-based, in-home, or family preservation services; mentoring; community service; restitution/restorative justice; after-school or extended day services; academic improvement; employment/vocational programs; shoplifting programs; law-related education; anger management; parenting skills; life skills; and individually purchased services to meet specific needs.

All data were downloaded on 11/10/2010. Any changes after that date are not reflected in this book.

Statewide Activity for Detention Homes

Total Capacity: 1,425 beds

In FY 2010, there were 24 secure detention facilities throughout the Commonwealth. These community-based, residential facilities provide temporary care for delinquents and alleged delinquents requiring secure custody pending court disposition or placement. Twelve of these facilities are locally operated, and 12 are run by commissions (political entities comprised of three or more localities). According to the Census of Juveniles in Residential Placement Databook, Virginia ranked 12th highest for the number of detained youth per 100,000 in 2007 among the 38 states with an upper age of jurisdiction of 17.

AVERAGE DAILY POPULATION VS CAPACITY, FY 2008-2014

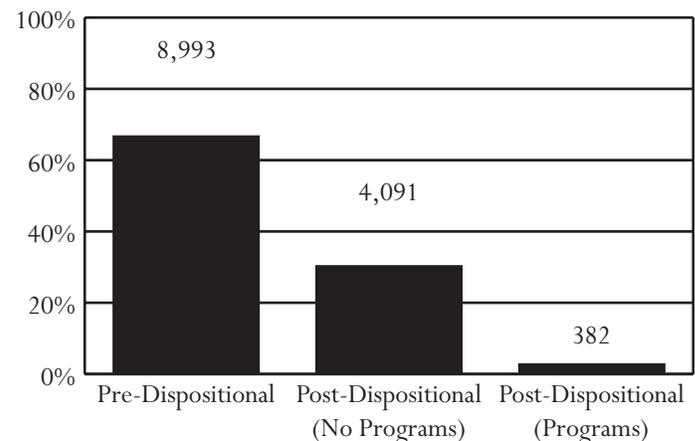

In FY 2002, DJJ, in conjunction with the Governor's Inmate Population Forecasting Committee, began producing a projection of local juvenile detention homes' average daily population (ADP). The most recent forecast predicts that the ADP will decrease 1% (7 juveniles) between FY 2010 and FY 2011 and that ADP will decrease 17% between FY 2010 and FY 2014.

Updates to Detention Module in JTS

In FY 2009, DJJ made improvements to the design and functionality of the JTS detention module. Historical detention data were translated to new tables in the JTS data warehouse used for reporting. Part of this process included data "cleanup" of historical records. For example, duplicated records may have been deleted. Several dispositional status codes were also added for tracking purposes. As a result of these updates, detention data may not be comparable to Data Resource Guides prior to FY 2009.

Halfway Houses

In FY 2010, DJJ operated three state-run halfway houses to meet the transitional needs of juveniles who were released from the juvenile correctional centers (JCCs). DJJ operated Hampton Place located in Norfolk, Abraxas House in Staunton, and Discovery House in Roanoke. Due to budget reductions, Discovery House was closed on June 10, 2010.

The purpose of a halfway house is to provide transitional living for juveniles unable to return home or whose service needs make this type of placement beneficial. Residents learn independent living skills and are required to enroll in school, work towards a GED, and/or be gainfully employed. Residents are placed on parole supervision during their stay at the halfway house. Supportive services such as substance abuse relapse services and sex offender relapse treatment are provided by public or private service providers with the use of transitional service funds. Upon completion of residence at a halfway house, juveniles may return to their families or live independently.

Commitment to the State

In October 2009, juveniles in the Sex Offender Treatment Program at Hanover JCC began writing a monthly newsletter to discuss the positive things happening in their treatment program. The juveniles write their own articles, and participants develop a sense of pride in their work and motivation to succeed in the program.

Introduction to Institutional Programs

The Institutions Section of the Division of Operations has direct responsibility for juvenile offenders who have been committed to the state, ensuring that they receive treatment and educational services while in a safe and secure setting. It operates the Carroll R. Minor Reception and Diagnostic Center (RDC), juvenile correctional centers (JCCs) and also contracts with private providers to house certain juvenile offenders.

The JCCs and RDC had a combined operating capacity of 917 as of June 30, 2010. The Behavioral Services Unit (BSU), Central Infirmary, Youth Industries, Bon Air Complex Maintenance, Health Services Unit, and Food Services Unit provide support to the JCCs. The Department of Correctional Education (DCE) also helps by meeting educational needs of the committed juveniles. Through contractual agreements with providers, DJJ offers supplemental programs and services in environments designed to more intensely deliver services. All programs within the institutions offer community reintegration and specialized services in a secure residential setting, taking into consideration adjustments in service delivery during the course of operation.

Based on a FY 2005 General Assembly mandate, DJJ developed a utilization plan to maximize the use of resources; efforts to implement recommendations from the plan continued throughout FY 2010. This includes ongoing population management through movement of juveniles according to the plan's mandates and DJJ's needs.

Also, DJJ plans renovations and new capital construction, as funding is available, in an ongoing effort to improve facilities. This planning requires close population management. When reviewing and adjusting the population for each facility, several factors are taken into consideration, such as housing capacity, staffing levels, and programming initiatives. Revisions to capacities and shifts in the population are considered in order to keep the treatment needs of the juveniles in the forefront. These were a natural result of the necessary closure of housing units on facility campuses. The utilization plan also called for a move toward therapeutic capacities within the facilities. To address this, DJJ began interrelations with staff and improved security in treatment settings. Continued population management has become a vital tool, and DJJ continues to work toward this goal.

individual needs. In addition to a psychological screening and evaluation, all youth receive both medical and dental examinations. Each juvenile receives a battery of tests from DCE staff to identify the appropriate educational level, vocational aptitude, and any special educational needs. RDC counselors are responsible for coordination of the evaluation process, individual and crisis counseling, completion of social history, and case management. At the conclusion of the evaluation process, a team of evaluators meet to discuss each case to determine treatment needs, length of stay, classification, transitioning/re-entry, mental health transitioning, and placement recommendations. From RDC, juveniles are sent to their designated correctional facilities or special placements.

RDC operates a highly structured orientation to the behavioral management program, REACH, utilized throughout the JCCs. REACH emphasizes development in areas of responsibility, empowerment, achievement, changes to ways of thinking and acting, and hope for a successful return to the community. It is designed to encourage juveniles to take responsibility for their own actions by earning credits, phases, and reinforcers based on their behaviors. (See page 158 for more detailed information on REACH.)

RDC plays a vital role in tracking juvenile data. Juvenile Profile data is collected at RDC and provides a global picture of the juvenile, including education, mental health, physical, and social information. Additionally, the facility is responsible for housing and maintaining all master files. RDC is a clearinghouse for release information, works in conjunction with the State Library on retention and destruction of documents, and is responsible for initial case screening by reviewing all court and legal documentation regarding the commitment.

ADMISSIONS BY READING, WRITING, AND MATH GRADE LEVELS, FY 2010

Female offenders tested higher for all three subject areas. The difference is greatest for writing.

After the closing of Natural Bridge JCC on October 9, 2009, the Department relocated the Work/Education Release Program (WERP) to RDC. DJJ utilized minimal existing resources by reopening a housing unit that had been previously closed due to budget reductions. In addition to reopening this unit, RDC refurbished it to create a more 'homelike' feel and was subsequently able to expand the program from the previous capacity of 10 participants to 12.

The purpose of WERP is to afford residents opportunities to successfully transition back to the community by providing employability skills, job placement in the community, life skills training, and transitional living. Residents who qualify for the program have access to a wide array of off-site employment opportunities as well as a community college education. Wages earned by WERP participants are initially used to pay any restitution, fines, or court costs, with any remaining wages credited to the residents' accounts. In addition to equipping residents with employability skills and/or furthering their education, the program provides a life skills component facilitated by the program's counselor utilizing the "Returning Home" curriculum from the Department's psycho-educational program, Phoenix. (See page 158 for more details on Phoenix.)

BEHAVIORAL SERVICES UNIT (BSU)

BSU is the organizational unit responsible for providing treatment services to residents of RDC and the JCCs. The primary services provided by BSU staff include mental health, substance abuse, sex offender, and aggression management treatment services, as well as psychological and risk assessments.

Organizational Structure: There are four BSU staff located at the DJJ Central Office: the Psychology Manager who serves as the Director of the Unit, the Program Supervisor for Substance Abuse and Sex Offender Services, the Program Supervisor for Aggression and Behavior Management Services, and the Executive Secretary of the Unit. RDC and each JCC have a BSU Treatment Director on-site who is responsible for the clinical treatment services at the institution. All supervisory staff are licensed professionals in their respective disciplines.

In addition to clinician supervisors, BSU employs qualified mental health professionals who are doctoral and masters level practitioners in psychology, social work, and rehabilitation counseling. Currently, approximately 55 BSU staff are distributed across the six facilities based upon the number of youth and particular treatment programs offered at each facility. BSU strongly supports the recruitment and retention of licensed/certified staff.

Mental Health Treatment: BSU conducts comprehensive psychological evaluations of all youth committed to DJJ while they are residents at RDC. At each facility, BSU provides 24/7 crisis intervention; individual, group, and family therapy; mental status evaluations; case consultations and development of individualized behavior support protocols; program development and implementation; and staff training. Three JCCs have intensive services units for residents whose mental health needs do not allow them to function effectively in the general population of the institution. Risk assessments are completed for all serious and major offenders when they are considered for release.

Psychiatric services at each of the facilities include psychiatric evaluation and medication management. Psychiatric services are provided through contracts with psychiatrists from the Virginia Commonwealth University School of Medicine as well as the private sector.

Substance Abuse Treatment: Evidence-based substance abuse treatment services are provided in specialized treatment units as well as in the general population at each of the JCCs. Treatment emphasizes motivation to change, drug and alcohol refusal skills, addiction/craving coping skills, relapse prevention, problem solving, effective communication, and transition to the community, among other skills.

Individualized treatment planning allows residents with co-occurring disorders and/or specialized needs to receive additional intervention, including individual, group, and family therapy. Girls with substance abuse treatment needs participate in a specialized treatment unit program that is evidence-based and addresses gender-specific issues, including female sexuality, trauma, and grief and loss.

Depending upon individual needs, completion of substance abuse treatment services requires five weeks to six months.

Sex Offender Treatment: DJJ opened its first state-operated juvenile sex offender unit in January, 1990. Currently, there are seven sex offender units (a total of 112 beds) with at least one unit at each of the JCCs. Evidence-based sex offender evaluation and treatment services are also provided in the general population and the intensive services units at the JCCs.

Residents in sex offender treatment units receive intensive milieu-based treatment from a multi-disciplinary treatment team that includes a unit manager, counselor, psychologist, and social worker. Specialized sex offender treatment units offer an array of services, including individual, group, and family therapy. Each resident receives an individualized treatment plan that addresses programmatic goals, competencies, and core treatment activities. Successful completion of sex offender treatment may require 6 to 36 months depending upon the treatment needs, behavioral stability, and motivation of the resident. Median treatment time is approximately 18 months.

Care provided through Health Services

Aggression Management: Evidence-based aggression management treatment services are provided at each of the JCCs. Residents receive treatment in specialized units as well as in the general population from multidisciplinary treatment teams consisting of mental health professionals, institutional counselors, and security staff.

Residents must complete core objectives that address anger control, moral reasoning, and social skills as well as demonstrate aggression management in their environment. Depending upon individual needs, treatment completion requires 10 to 16 weeks or longer.

HEALTH SERVICES

The Division of Health Services utilizes an integrated team approach to provide quality health care services to youth confined in the JCCs and RDC. The Department's approach to health care is to ensure services provided are clinically appropriate and medically necessary while emphasizing both prevention and wellness. Health education is an important component of the program; youth are provided information to encourage healthy lifestyle choices both now and in the future.

The provision of health care services in the correctional environment presents unique challenges since many youth have not had consistent access to preventive care or a medical provider. To meet this challenge, DJJ maintains a staff of physicians, dentists, and nurses on-site who provide assessment, treatment, and care to meet the medical and dental needs of the population housed in the facilities. On-site staff is supplemented by a network of hospitals, physicians, and transport services, provided through contract, to ensure all medically necessary health care services are delivered consistently with the standards of the community.

Upon admission, each youth undergoes a comprehensive evaluation which includes a health care screening, medical history, and complete physical examination. A review of immunizations, including the administration of any missed doses; a dental evaluation and prophylaxis; vision and hearing screenings; and routine laboratory testing, including testing for sexually transmitted diseases, complete the evaluation process.

On a continuing basis, evaluation and treatment of new medical concerns as well as follow-up care are provided based on individual needs. Additional health care requirements such as specialty medical care, pharmacy services, diagnostic imaging, physical therapy, and hospital services are provided through the Department's extensive network of medical partners in the community.

The Health Services Division of DJJ offers continuing education programs for physician, dental, and nursing staff who work in JCCs, RDC, and detention centers across the Commonwealth to ensure that they are current on adolescent health issues.

SECURITY AND OPERATIONS

The Institutions Section of the Division of Operations incorporates functions that provide public safety, including supervision and control of committed juveniles and support functions of proper facility operation. Security, which involves both public safety and the safety of the juveniles themselves, is facilitated by the juvenile correctional officers (JCOs) in the field. JCOs operate using paramilitary-style rankings and titles under standard operating procedures that establish how facilities and services are to operate on a 24-hour basis, including proper techniques for addressing various situations. Support staff provide basic daily operating services, including food service, maintenance, human resources, medical, recreation, and business office responsibilities.

As a safeguard for the resident, a grievance process is in place in the institutions. The DJJ's Ombudsman Program was instituted in 2002 as part of the Inspector General's office. The purpose of the program is to provide a strong system of advocacy for Virginia's incarcerated youth.

The program is staffed by an agency-wide ombudsman and grievance coordinators assigned to each of the juvenile correctional centers. This staffing structure provides a balanced view of facility strengths and challenges and a more objective approach to solving identified problems. By monitoring conditions of confinement and service delivery systems, the program helps identify and solve problems with potential to cause harm or impede rehabilitative efforts. It helps protect the rights of residents; promotes system accountability; and helps ensure safe, humane, and lawful living conditions. The Ombudsman and the grievance coordinators operate independently from the facilities in order to provide juveniles with an outlet for addressing issues for which they have expressed concern.

Key components of the Ombudsman Program include SOP-105 Resident Grievance and Complaint/Request Procedure, thorough orientations and training on how to use the grievance procedure for new staff and residents, Resident Advisory Committees in each facility, and the grievance database. In addition, the program provides a toll-free number for parents and staff to contact the office in order to voice any concerns they may have. Additional information is on the agency's website under Initiatives.

CASE MANAGEMENT AND TREATMENT PROGRAMS

The Case Management and Treatment Programs Section of the Division provides oversight of treatment needs, security requirements (with respect to classification), length of stay, institutional placements, and changes while in direct care. Case management staff monitor treatment and program delivery, facilitate psycho-educational groups utilizing the Phoenix curriculum, assess progress achieved, set parameters for the programs, and deal with broad regulations on classification as well as the residential location of juveniles with different classifications. They are responsible for ensuring that all needed services (including mental health, substance abuse, sex offender, aggression management, and independent living skills development) are available and operational at the facilities, and they serve as a liaison between the field and the administrative offices for procedures and resources. They are responsible for establishing and updating the length of stay for each resident and the resident's custody classification. These staff follow the case management practices that will eventually justify the release of a juvenile back to the community, and they work with the community to provide a transition and parole plan for re-entry.

PHOENIX PROGRAM

The Phoenix Program is an evidence-based curriculum developed by A. R. Phoenix Resources, Inc. The curriculum helps residents develop a variety of behavioral, cognitive, and affective skills necessary to function effectively in the institutions and community settings. This curriculum, designed for adolescents, includes skills such as decision-making, problem-solving, anger management, coping skills, relapse prevention, returning home, vocational issues, understanding and handling feelings, and dealing with transitions. The Phoenix Program treatment assignments are organized according to the stages of change. This design ensures that each resident receives treatment during their entire stay at DJJ. Weekly group sessions are accompanied by specific assignments that require residents to apply the lessons to their daily lives.

The Phoenix curriculum begins at RDC with counselors delivering the 'Treatment Readiness' portion of the program. Residents continue to receive instruction in the Phoenix curriculum throughout their stay in direct care, participating in groups specifically targeted to address areas identified as a need for the resident. Prior to release, all residents receive the 'Going Home' portion of the curriculum to prepare them for successful re-entry to the community. Finally, additional curriculum can be delivered by the parole officer in the community to reinforce the components the residents receive in the institution.

REACH PROGRAM

In 2007, DJJ implemented a new institutional behavior management program focusing on Responsibility, Empowerment, Achievement, Change, and Hope (REACH). The program provides residents with the knowledge, skills, and abilities necessary for rehabilitation, positive growth, and behavioral change. The program is designed to focus on identifying desired behaviors, tracking inappropriate behaviors, providing feedback, and having a system of phases through which the juvenile can advance. The program also emphasizes a community approach within the facilities in order to better prepare youth for successful re-entry upon release.

REACH allows residents to earn credits for positive behavior and to exchange those credits for reinforcers or privileges. With consistent positive behavior, residents can obtain higher phases within the program and corresponding access to a greater number of reinforcer choices at each level. All of the JCCs and RDC are equipped with a Reinforcer Room to promote the atmosphere of REACH.

The program also emphasizes the relationship between staff and residents and the appropriate modeling of behavior. Housing unit management plays an integral part in the REACH program. The same staff work with the same youth on an ongoing basis; staff and residents get to know each other, thereby increasing the expectations for appropriate behavior within the unit. Staff can also be more attentive to the individual needs of the youth and help them with their day-to-day problems, all of which is designed to result in the solving of problems and issues at the lowest level and reducing the need for physical intervention by staff. Finally, each housing unit operates as a community with daily meetings and a leadership structure board to encourage positive interactions between residents.

The implementation of the REACH program is evaluated using multiple approaches. The JCCs and RDC track resident participation and progress in the program by entering data into the database, including credits earned and spent as well as phase promotions and demotions. Additionally, housing units submit weekly checklist forms in order to monitor each unit's fulfillment of REACH activities and requirements, such as community meetings, reinforcer opportunities, and leadership structure board positions. These data are then analyzed in order to determine the facility's adherence to program guidelines, and the results are reported to the facility administration and the Central Programming Committee on a monthly and quarterly basis. Additionally, a team of DJJ staff evaluate the REACH program at each JCC by observing daily routines, interviewing staff and residents, and utilizing surveys. A debriefing of JCC staff follows each on-site REACH evaluation, and each facility develops an action plan to address areas identified as needing improvement.

As the REACH program continues, slight changes may be necessary to improve its operation in the JCCs. The evaluations of the program have prompted facility staff to collaborate with the program evaluators to make adjustments and clarifications to the program and its implementation. In addition to seeking input from staff, the evaluators and the Central Programming Committee have encouraged input from residents through interviews, surveys, and a focus group. The REACH evaluation will continue to measure facilities' implementation of the program and guide program amendments.

YOUTH INDUSTRIES

Juvenile re-entry programs begin with the premise that planning for release starts at RDC admission. Recognizing that many of the youth released to the community from the JCCs were not prepared to enter the workforce, the Youth Industries Program was created to help participants overcome barriers to employment and was designed as a partnership with DCE and the U.S. Department of Labor (DOL). DJJ manages its programs so that juveniles are offered meaningful opportunities to learn employable skills and to practice those skills in a constructive environment.

Participant selection is based on a resident's custody level, age, physical abilities, length of stay, and educational development and requirements. Those residents who meet established criteria are afforded the opportunity to engage in employment provided both on the JCC grounds and in local communities through agreements with agencies of state and local government, private employers, foundations, and charitable organizations. Additionally, residents who otherwise might not be able to complete or participate in all phases of the work-training program may be offered the opportunity to contribute toward meaningful community service work activities both on the facility grounds and in local communities.

Each JCC, in cooperation with DCE, develops its own processes to provide work-training programs to its population based on local resources, staff competencies, and juvenile characteristics. For this reason, programs offered at each of the JCCs vary. However, similar elementary components are provided to contribute to positive results as juveniles enter the workforce upon release. In an effort to improve a juvenile's likelihood of success, Youth Industries works with the State's One-Stop Centers, operated through the Virginia Workforce Council and Workforce Investment Boards, to help secure employment and other needed services for these youthful offenders.

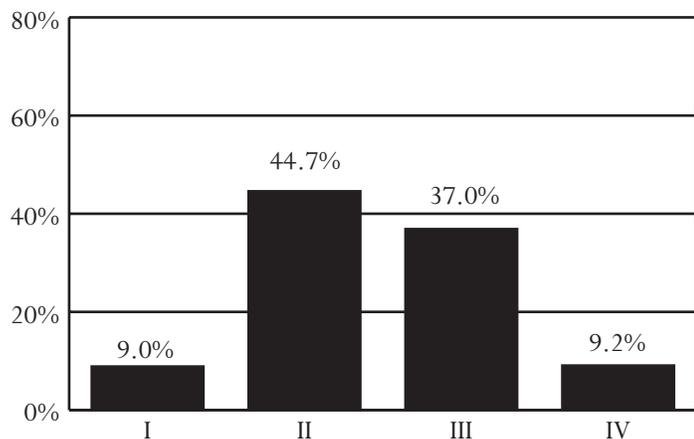

Selected youth receive one or more of the following:

- Vocational and academic instruction
- Hands-on work-based training
- Ongoing counseling services
- Transitional skills and services
- Follow-up

If warranted, participating juveniles are modestly compensated based on work-training hours completed or receive an established piecework rate. Fields of study may also be integrated with an apprenticeship program. Such fields of study include horticulture, silk screening, offset printing, food service, immediate assembly, woodworking, electrical, barbering, embroidery, vinyl sign-making, and advertising and design. Each year, creative arts and crafts work produced by juveniles are collected for display and sale at the annual Expressions Arts and Crafts Exhibit held at the General Assembly Building at the start of the legislative session.

In the past, DJJ, in conjunction with DCE, has utilized DOL grant funding from two separate grants to build and enhance Youth Industries programming at Beaumont, Culpeper, and Natural Bridge JCCs. Juveniles who participated in a program under the DOL grants were provided with an aftercare component that focused on the employability of the juveniles through education, work experience, direct job placement, follow-up, or a combination of these. Since expiration of the grant funding, DJJ and DCE have assumed all program-related costs to ensure that these opportunities continue to be available for residents.

At Beaumont, the funding was used to establish a barbering program as well as an electrical program and an expansion of the existing printing program. Funding was used at Culpeper to establish programs in barbering and horticulture. At Natural Bridge, grant funds allowed for the development of a 10-bed Work/Education Release program that utilized living quarters separate from other juveniles housed at the JCC. This program provided selected juveniles an opportunity to obtain higher education/work-experience outside of a JCC. Wages earned were first used to pay any restitutions, fines, or court costs.

The electrical program at Beaumont JCC has also incorporated a new copper/fiber optic-based Network Cabling Installer course. Completion of this eight-month course will allow juveniles to become fully certified cable installers. Currently, juveniles at Beaumont and Culpeper JCCs who are participating in the barbering program provide grooming services for other juveniles housed at the facilities as well as to staff. Additionally, the horticulture program incorporates classroom instruction as well as the use of a fully functional greenhouse that was constructed on the grounds of the facility. Residents involved in the horticulture program have completed numerous beautification projects at the Culpeper facility as well as several other JCCs. To date, 18 juveniles from the Beaumont and Culpeper barbering programs have earned their barbering licenses. By the end of FY 2009 (Natural Bridge’s last full fiscal year of operation) there were 70 juveniles who had participated in the Work/Education Release Program. They attended college classes at a nearby campus and/or were employed by local businesses.

The Youth Industries Program is also currently responsible for coordinating the Inter/Intramural Recreation and Extracurricular Activities Program (IREAP), which was introduced into the JCCs during 2007. IREAP is also a component of the REACH behavioral management program, providing opportunities for the diverse resident population to participate in structured, healthy competition in traditional sports and academic-related activities. Activities include basketball, softball, soccer, volleyball, chess, table tennis tournaments, swimming, track & field, a spelling bee, and an academic bowl. A Career and Technical Education – Technical Bowl is planned and will require JCC residents to work together in teams during four activities: problem solving, applied math, poster competition, and puzzle problem solving. These activities will allow the residents a chance to travel, secured, to other JCCs and compete against their peers.

CLASSIFICATION SYSTEM

The Department operates an objective classification system to enable staff to assess a resident’s appropriate security and custody level, determine the most appropriate services and programs, assign residents to appropriate housing placements within a facility, and assess residents for placement in community transition programs and for special needs. The classification system also provides for periodic reviews of security, custody, and program placement in consideration of the juveniles’ needs and progress and for the re-classification of juveniles as appropriate. A resident’s behavior, initial committing offense, and willingness to participate in treatment/education programs will impact the classification level.

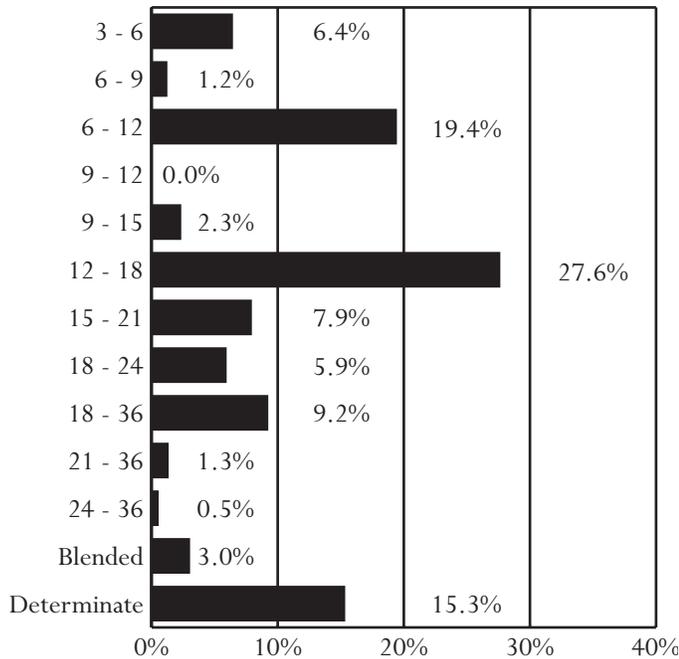

Residents are classified according to their need for structure:

- Level I - low structure
- Level II - medium structure
- Level III - high structure
- Level IV - intensive structure

Residents are assigned to facilities based on these classification levels, age, sex, and other factors identified in Appendix D. Each facility houses residents with classification levels I through IV. The need for specific treatment may override a classification level for facility placement, but the classification level is still taken into consideration for room assignment.

ADMISSIONS BY LENGTH OF STAY ASSIGNMENTS, FY 2010

74% of JCC admissions were committed by the J&DR court and over half of those had either 6-12 or 12-18 month assigned LOS; 18% of JCC admissions were committed by circuit court with 53% of them having a determinate LOS. (The remaining 8% of admissions had both a J&DR and CC commitment).

LENGTH OF STAY (LOS)

Using guidelines issued by the Board of Juvenile Justice, DJJ establishes the length of stay for indeterminately committed juveniles based on the severity of a juvenile's offense(s) and chronicity of criminal behavior, with due consideration given to the youth's treatment needs and demonstrated behavior while under DJJ's supervision. LOS categories are defined by an anticipated minimum and maximum number of months that the resident will remain with DJJ. For example, the LOS category 3-6 indicates a resident is expected to stay between three and six months. The actual LOS may vary from this range due to institutional offenses or failure to complete mandatory treatment. (The guidelines and LOS categories can be found in Appendix E.)

PROJECTION FOR THE INSTITUTIONAL POPULATION

Each year DJJ, in conjunction with the Governor's Inmate Population Forecasting Committee, produces a projection of the state-responsible juvenile offender average daily population. The most recent forecast projects that the institutional population will decrease 10.9% between FY 2010 and FY 2014. It is important to note that the values shown in the graph below are June values for each fiscal year.

AVERAGE DAILY POPULATION (JUNE) - HISTORICAL AND PROJECTED, FY 2006-2014

The state-responsible juvenile offender population is expected to decrease by 10.9% between FY 2010 and FY 2014. The historical ADP and forecast numbers shown in the table are the June values for each fiscal year.

Reoffense Rates

Merrimac Center's Post-Dispositional Detention Program fosters responsibility and an experience with nature through its new chicken project. Residents attend to the needs of the chickens daily, ensuring fresh water, plenty of food, a clean coop, and lots of love.

Measuring Reoffense Rates

Recidivism, or reoffending, is an important concept for juvenile and adult criminal justice systems because it provides a measure of outcome success. In terms of public awareness, this concept is usually the primary measure of interest when evaluating program effectiveness. Use of a standardized measure of recidivism allows evaluation across different types of programs and facilitates comparison to program outcomes from other states.

While there are many studies on offender recidivism, comparison of results is difficult because the evaluation methodologies used vary widely. Definitions of recidivism differ from study to study, and characteristics of the juveniles studied may not be adequately identified. These issues, as well as others concerning reoffense analysis, were discussed in DJJ's research quarterly on juvenile recidivism in Virginia (available on the DJJ website at www.djj.virginia.gov/Resources/DJJ\_Publications/ResearchQuarterlies.aspx). In November 2009, the Council of Juvenile Correctional Administrators (CJCA) released a white paper entitled, "Defining and Measuring Recidivism." This study determined that because reoffense findings can differ greatly depending on how recidivism is defined and measured, there is a need for standardization of measurement. According to CJCA, "standardization is necessary in order to communicate clearly the meaning of outcome study results, to communicate unambiguously the methods used to obtain research findings, to enable replication of research designs, to make possible comparisons across studies and regions, and to facilitate knowledge development." Since there is a general agreement regarding the use of adjudication/conviction, CJCA recommends that all recidivism studies use this decision point to measure recidivism and the date of the offense to determine the date of the recidivism event.

METHODS FOR STUDYING REOFFENDING

One method used to evaluate reoffending is the longitudinal cohort study. A cohort is a group of individuals who share some common characteristic, such as release from incarceration during a specific year. This method may use the entire population of interest or a sample from that population. The chosen cohort is followed over a period of time so that any trends for the group may be identified. For reoffense rates, a cohort is tracked for a specific follow-up period. For a longitudinal cohort analysis, the cohort is chosen (for example, all juveniles released from JCCs during FY 2008). At the end of a specified follow-up period (for example, 12 months after release) all instances of reoffending are identified. The cohort is then divided into groups depending on whether or not they reoffended.

Most recidivism studies use the longitudinal cohort method, including the Florida Department of Corrections' report on adult recidivism (2003) and Virginia's annual evaluations of juvenile reoffending (see previous Data Resource Guides). This method provides a clear picture of long-term trends and allows public safety agencies to see patterns in offending.

DEFINITIONS OF REOFFENDING

The American Correctional Association (ACA) has stated that the definition of recidivism is one of the primary issues for juvenile and adult correctional organizations. According to the ACA, "...there are numerous ways to measure recidivism... [d]epending on what perspective is taken, statistical outcomes may vary."

There are three commonly accepted definitions used to measure reoffending:

- Rearrest refers to a petitioned juvenile complaint for a new criminal offense made at intake or an adult arrest for a new criminal offense. Rearrest is an important measure of reoffending because it represents the initial official contact with the criminal justice system. Uses of rearrest rates are limited as a gauge of reoffending because rearrest measures police activity, and juveniles may be rearrested for offenses they did not actually commit.
- Reconviction refers to a guilty adjudication for a delinquent or criminal offense. This measure represents a more stringent way to measure reoffending. Because reconviction rates are based on the final disposition for an offense, only cases with an admission of guilt or a court adjudication of guilty are counted. Only reconviction meets the definition of recidivism used by DJJ.
- Reincarceration refers to a return to incarceration (after having been previously released from incarceration in a juvenile or adult facility) subsequent to rearrest and reconviction on a new criminal offense. This measure indicates that the new offense is serious enough to warrant a return to incarceration.

A report on offender risk assessment in Virginia (Ostrom, Kleiman, Chessman, Hansen, & Kauder, 2002) emphasized that the way recidivism is defined influences the interpretation of study results. According to their report, there are strengths and weaknesses associated with each measure of recidivism. Use of rearrest as a measure of recidivism has the advantage of not being influenced by court proceedings (offense reduction, plea bargaining, diversion) but may overestimate the level of reoffending because arrest criteria are less stringent than conviction criteria. Rearrest rates represent the maximum rate for reoffending as captured in official records.

Use of reconviction as a measure of recidivism lessens the likelihood of overinflating reoffending rates. It should be noted that time to reconviction is best measured as the number of days until a new arrest for which the offender will be subsequently convicted so that any discrepancies in court procedures will not influence the measurement of time to reoffense.

Reincarceration rates offer the most stringent measure of reoffending. Juveniles recommitted to a JCC or sentenced to an adult facility have been considered by a judge to have committed offenses serious enough to justify return to a correctional facility.

ISSUES WITH THE STUDY OF REOFFENDING

Ostrom et al. (2002) noted that studies of reoffending (recidivism) differ in terms of the length of time used for follow-up. Length of follow-up period in these studies typically ranges from three months to five years. Most studies use a one-year follow-up period to assess reoffending. While reoffense rates are often highest within the first year after release or judicial action, the limitation of follow-up to one year does not allow for a comprehensive analysis of reoffending patterns. Studies of reoffending should use longer follow-up periods to get a better idea of the recidivism process. Ostrom et al. (2002) recommended using a follow-up period of at least one to three years.

There are other issues relevant to the examination of reoffending, particularly for juveniles. First, many studies have focused on offenders who were released from correctional centers. Focusing on this group limits the understanding of reoffending rates because it does not allow for examination of all individuals who have contact with the justice system and eliminates the possibility of comparison between individuals who were incarcerated in secure facilities and individuals who were sent to diversion programs or placed on probation.

Also, few studies have tracked offenses through both the juvenile and adult justice systems. A complete examination of juvenile reoffending is not possible unless all juvenile and adult contacts with the justice system are included.

Additionally, studies of reoffending should include information on gender and age differences when presenting reoffense data, particularly evaluations of juvenile reoffending. There are well-documented developmental differences between males and females, as well as juveniles in early adolescence versus late adolescence. For example, a 2007 study by Oregon Youth Authority found that female offenders were less likely than male offenders to be reconvicted of a felony. Therefore, reoffending patterns should not be assumed to be the same for all juveniles.

DJJ'S STUDY OF JUVENILE REOFFENDING

Data on juvenile offenders in Virginia are contained in the DJJ Juvenile Tracking System (JTS). The JTS contains information on juvenile intakes, detention placements, commitments to JCCs or other incarceration alternatives, and probation placements for all localities within Virginia. This information allows for the examination of juvenile reoffending patterns in a standardized way. DJJ also obtains statewide adult arrest and conviction information from the Virginia State Police and the Virginia Sentencing Commission. In addition, DJJ acquires information on subsequent incarcerations from the Department of Corrections (DOC) and the State Compensation Board. Information from these sources enables the study of statewide juvenile reoffending patterns with long-term follow-up periods.

Juvenile reoffending patterns for FY 2005 through FY 2009 were examined for this Data Resource Guide. Juvenile and adult arrest data on juveniles released from Virginia JCCs or placed on probation during these years were examined. The follow-up period ranged from three months to three years from the date the juvenile was released or placed. Demographic information for reoffenders was also included.

Although all three measures of reoffending were included in this Data Resource Guide, it is important to note that the official DJJ recidivism definition is based on measures of reconviction. In February 2000, the Director of the Virginia Department of Juvenile Justice issued an administrative directive (07-710) that established an official definition for recidivism to be used by the Department (this directive was updated in December 2004).

For the purposes of reporting recidivism rates of juveniles as required by Va. Code §2.2-222, the Department will use the following definition:

A recidivist is a person who is found by a court to have committed, after being (a) placed on probation or (b) released from confinement, a delinquent or criminal act other than violation of probation or parole.

As the recidivism definition currently stands, all instances of petitioned delinquent intakes and adult arrests for criminal activity for which a juvenile has been adjudicated guilty that occur after a juvenile is released from a JCC or is placed on probation are collected by DJJ. Technical violations are not included in this definition of reoffending. Tracking information for subsequent juvenile and adult offenses provides a better measure of reoffending than simply gathering information from the juvenile justice system alone.

As previously mentioned, DJJ uses a longitudinal cohort method for analysis; however, it is important to note that recidivism data tracks particular juveniles and not specific offenses. For example:

A juvenile is released from a JCC on January 1, 2008.

A) On March 1, 2008 he is arrested on a misdemeanor assault and the case is ultimately dismissed.

B) On October 1, 2008 he is arrested on a felony assault and is ultimately adjudicated guilty.

Rearrest rates would capture (A) within the 3-month follow-up period because it was the first arrest; (B) would not count in the rearrest rates. Reconviction rates would capture (B) as the first conviction within the 12-month follow-up period. Thus, the reconviction offense is not necessarily correlated with the initial rearrest. Likewise, the reincarceration offenses may not necessarily correlate with the reconviction offense.

Reoffense Rates for JCC Releases and Probation Placements

Reoffense data were examined for the following cohorts:

- JCC Releases – all juveniles released from juvenile correctional centers between FY 2005 and FY 2009
- Probation Placements – all juveniles placed on probation between FY 2005 and FY 2009
- Juveniles in DJJ Programs – all juveniles who were in various treatment programs (including juveniles served by VJCCCA) or incarceration alternatives (including post-dispositional detention programs) between FY 2007 and FY 2009

Tables on the next few pages include the following data:

- Rearrest rates are presented for FY 2005 to FY 2009 for both JCC Release and Probation Placement cohorts as well as FY 2007 to FY 2009 for VJCCCA Placements.
- Reconviction rates are presented for FY 2005 to FY 2008 for both JCC Release and Probation Placement cohorts.
- Reincarceration rates are presented for FY 2005 to FY 2008 JCC Releases. These rates represent recommitment back into a JCC, incarceration in a penitentiary (not including blended sentences), or a jail sentence imposed by a judge. Data on any commitment to a JCC or an adult incarceration are also included for the post-dispositional detention program cohorts.

Only petitioned delinquent intakes were used for the analysis. Reoffense data did not include the following offenses: violation of probation or parole, contempt of court, failure to appear (non-felony or misdemeanor), non-criminal domestic relations/child welfare complaints, or non-criminal traffic violations.

When the length of time to rearrest or reconviction is reported, it indicates the time between the date the juvenile was released from a JCC or placed on probation and the date of a new arrest. For reincarceration length of time, the difference between the release date from a JCC and the reincarceration date was used.

There is a slight discrepancy between the total number of JCC Releases/Probation Placements in the reoffense analysis when compared with the total number of juveniles released from the JCCs or placed on probation reported in other sections of this Data Resource Guide. This slight discrepancy is due to the following methodological criteria used to establish the cohorts:

- Probation Placement cohorts did not include those few juveniles with missing date of birth data. This information is required to match cases in different state data systems (such as the DJJ JTS and the Virginia Criminal Information Network used by the Virginia State Police).
- Juveniles released from the JCCs under the following conditions were not included in the reoffense analysis: juveniles placed into RDC pre-dispositionally but not committed to the JCCs, juveniles sent directly to DOC upon release from the JCCs, or juveniles released from the JCCs on appeal (these juveniles were included in the analysis for any subsequent admissions and releases once the appeal process was completed and the juveniles were found guilty).

The numbers presented in this section have changed from previous Data Resource Guides due to more comprehensive information obtained from other agencies.

- Recidivism rates for FY 2008 (defined as reconviction rates by DJJ) at 12-months were:
  - 37.7% for juveniles released from the JCCs;
  - 25.1% for juveniles placed on probation.
- JCC Releases had higher 12-month rearrest rates than Probation Placements between FY 2005 and FY 2009 and higher 12-month reconviction rates between FY 2005 and FY 2008.
- The following reoffending patterns were noted at 12-months when comparing FY 2007 and FY 2008:
  - For JCC Releases, all reoffense rates decreased.
  - For Probation Placements, the rearrest rate increased slightly and the reconviction rate decreased.

36 months	79.9%	74.8%	79.7%	N/A	N/A	61.3%	61.0%	59.6%	N/A	N/A

As mentioned earlier, DJJ does not use rearrest rates as the official definition for recidivism. Examining rearrest rates is helpful, however, because these rates reflect the level of additional official contact juveniles have with the justice system after release or placement. Also, analysis of rearrest allows for comparison to other studies that use rearrest as their measure of recidivism. Evaluation of rearrest rates provides a sense of the maximum rate of known reoffending that occurs over time.

- Rearrest rates for Probation Placements have been consistently lower than rearrest rates for JCC Releases since FY 2005 (with the exception of the 3-month rates in FY 2008 and FY 2009).
- The 12-month rearrest rate for JCC Releases increased from 47.0% in FY 2008 to 49.3% in FY 2009. For Probation Placements, the 12-month rearrest rate decreased from 37.1% in FY 2008 to 36.7% in FY 2009.
- The rearrest rates for JCC Releases have fluctuated from year to year with a decrease between FY 2005 and FY 2006, an increase between FY 2006 and FY 2007, and a decrease between FY 2007 and FY 2008. Between FY 2008 and FY 2009, rates decreased at the 3- and 6-month intervals but increased at 12-months. Overall, comparing FY 2005 to FY 2009, the 3-, 6-, and 12-month rearrest rates for JCC Releases decreased.
- The rearrest rates for Probation Placements remained relatively stable.

Demographic data for 12-month rearrest rates for JCC Releases and Probation Placements are presented in the table on the left.

- Males had higher rearrest rates than females for both JCC Releases and Probation Placements.
- Black juveniles had the highest rearrest rates for both JCC Releases and Probation Placements.
- Some age groups comprise a small number of juveniles. Therefore, the rearrest of only a few juveniles can strongly influence the rate. For example, there were only three juveniles who were age 13 when they were released from a JCC in FY 2009. Caution should be used in making comparisons between age groups.

DJJ's official definition of recidivism requires a new conviction. This rate is preferred because it considers the final adjudication of delinquency/guilt rather than level of arrest activity. Only offenses for which there has been a clear final disposition of delinquency/guilt are counted as reconvictions. Because of cases still pending at the time of analysis, reconviction rates for FY 2009 JCC Releases and Probation Placements are unavailable. Reconviction rates may increase slightly when re-examined next year because of updated final case dispositions.

- Reconviction rates for Probation Placements have been consistently lower than the reconviction rates for JCC Releases since FY 2005.
- The 12-month reconviction rate for JCC Releases decreased from 42.1% in FY 2007 to 37.7% in FY 2008. For Probation Placements, the 12-month reconviction rate decreased from 26.3% to 25.1% during the same time frame.
- Comparing FY 2005 to FY 2008:
  - The 3-, 6-, and 12-month reconviction rates for JCC Releases decreased during this time period with the largest decrease at the 6-month time period from 22.1% to 18.0%.
  - The 3-, 6-, and 12-month reconviction rates for Probation Placements also decreased during this time frame with the largest decrease occurring at the 12-month period from 27.4% to 25.1%.

REINCARCERATION RATES FOR JCC RELEASES IN FY 2005-2008, TRACKED THROUGH FY 2010

DJJ tracks both juvenile and adult reincarceration. Reincarceration rates are based on any new commitment to DJJ, DOC, or a sentence for time in a local jail. The addition of adult incarceration data allows for a complete comparison of reoffense rates for all former DJJ residents, from rearrest to reincarceration. The inclusion of adult incarceration information, for both the prisons and jails, is especially useful because DJJ retains custody of some residents until age 21.

Because of cases still pending at the time of analysis, reincarceration rates for FY 2009 JCC Releases are unavailable. Reincarceration rates presented in this Data Resource Guide may differ from rates presented in previous years because of updated information obtained from DOC and from the Virginia Compensation Board (local jail sentence information) for FY 2005 through FY 2008 JCC Releases.

24 months	48.5%	47.2%	52.5%	N/A
36 months	62.5%	60.1%	N/A	N/A

- Reincarceration rates remained relatively stable for most follow-up intervals between FY 2005 and FY 2008.
- The percentage of JCC Releases recommitted to the JCCs within 12 months of release decreased from 6.5% in FY 2005 to 5.5% in FY 2008.
- The percentage of JCC Releases recommitted to adult facilities within 12 months of release changed less than 1% from FY 2005 to FY 2008 (Local Jails: 19.0% to 19.8%; DOC: 1.8% to 1.2%).

Demographic data for 12-month reincarceration rates for JCC Releases are presented in the table below.

- Males had higher reincarceration rates than females.
- Black juveniles had the highest reincarceration rates.
- Reincarceration rates were highest for juveniles who were age 17 or older at the time of their release from the JCCs.
- Some age groups comprise a small number of juveniles. Therefore, the reincarceration of only a few juveniles can strongly influence the rate. For example, there were only 15 juveniles who were age 14 when they were released from a JCC in FY 2008. Caution should be used in making comparisons between age groups.

- The CSU District is identified by the Juvenile and Domestic Relations District Court that originally committed the juvenile to the Department or placed the juvenile on probation.
- Some CSUs had a small number of releases/placements. Therefore, the reoffense of only a few juveniles can strongly influence the rates. It is important to consider this when looking at the percentages for each specific CSU.

TWELVE-MONTH REOFFENSE RATES BY RISK LEVEL, JCC RELEASES AND PROBATION PLACEMENTS TRACKED THROUGH FY 2010

Risk Level	JCC Releases			Probation Placements
	FY 2009 Rearrest	FY 2008		FY 2009 Rearrest	FY 2008 Reconviction
		Reconviction	Reincarceration
Low*	18.9%	29.6%	14.8%	25.2%	13.6%
Moderate	47.1%	31.3%	21.8%	38.9%	28.9%
High	54.9%	43.0%	30.6%	60.5%	43.1%

*There were a small number of JCC Releases with a low risk level.

The DJJ Risk Assessment Instrument or the Youth Assessment & Screening Instrument (YASI) is completed by CSU staff to determine a juvenile's relative risk of reoffending (see Appendix H for both instruments). According to the risk assessment score, a juvenile's reoffense risk level is classified as low, moderate, or high. The risk assessment is completed as part of a social history report and is therefore not completed for all juveniles. A juvenile's risk assessment score is one factor examined when parole supervision level is established. Juveniles with high risk assessment scores usually receive higher levels of parole supervision when first released from the JCCs.

The table above presents the reoffense rates for JCC Releases and Probation Placements with completed risk assessment scores. For both JCC Releases and Probation Placements, juveniles with low risk levels had the lowest reoffense rates, and juveniles with high risk levels had the highest reoffense rates. These rates are consistent with probable reoffense risk (according to risk score levels). In FY 2008, 4% of JCC Releases and 10% of Probation Placements were missing risk assessment scores, and in FY 2009, 4% of JCC Releases and 14% of Probation Placements were missing scores.

- Probation Placements had higher rearrest rates than JCC Releases for the low and high risk levels while rates were higher for JCC releases at moderate risk level.
- JCC Releases had higher reconviction rates than Probation Placements for low and moderate risk levels and approximately the same rate at the high risk level.
- When looking at the various risk levels in reference to reoffense data, the rates show that the Risk Assessment Instrument/YASI is accurately classifying juveniles with regard to their risk of reoffense.

VJCCCA programs serve thousands of juveniles each year, with a variety of programs in each locality. One of the outcome measures chosen for the evaluation of VJCCCA programs is rearrest (defined as a new petitioned intake or adult arrest). The rearrest rates at 3-, 6-, and 12-month follow-up intervals for juveniles who were placed in VJCCCA programs are provided in the table above. For comparative purposes, the rearrest rates for Probation Placements and JCC Releases for these years are also listed.

- The rearrest rates at the 3-, 6-, and 12-month follow-up intervals decreased for VJCCCA Placements.
- Between FY 2007 and FY 2009, VJCCCA Placements had the highest 3-month rearrest rates when compared to Probation Placements and JCC Releases.
- The 6- and 12-month rearrest rates for VJCCCA Placements were higher than the rates for Probation Placements in FY 2007 and the 6-month rate in FY 2008 also followed this same trend. The 12-month rearrest rate in FY 2008 as well as the 6- and 12-month rearrest rates in FY 2009 were lower for VJCCCA Placements than for Probation Placements. The 6- and 12-month rearrest rates for VJCCCA Placements were lower than the rates for JCC Releases during all years shown.

Many juveniles committed to DJJ participate in programs designed to meet their treatment needs. There are also various program opportunities to assist in the successful return of these committed juveniles back into the community. Not all those who are adjudicated delinquent are placed in the JCCs, however. There are commitment alternatives available to judges for placement of juveniles who may be better served in non-JCC residential facilities. The table above presents the 12-month reoffense rates for juveniles in these programs who were released from the JCCs or post-dispositional detention programs between FY 2007 and FY 2009.

The table is not intended to provoke a comparison between the different programs – these programs often serve vastly different groups of juveniles with varying offense histories, treatment needs, and skills. Also, some programs serve a small number of youth each year; in such instances the reoffenses of only a few juveniles may result in a seemingly high overall reoffense rate. The information in this table may be useful as DJJ evaluates these programs and commitment alternatives over time. Also, these data may serve as a source of comparison for similar programs in other states. It should be noted that all programs in the table except post-dispositional detention are subsets of the overall JCC population; no comparisons are made between program reoffense rates and the overall JCC release rates for that reason.

- Substance Abuse Treatment Need – Rearrest rates decreased from FY 2007 to FY 2008 and increased from FY 2008 to FY 2009. Between FY 2007 and FY 2008, both reconviction and reincarceration rates decreased.
- Sex Offender Treatment Need – Rearrest rates decreased from FY 2007 to FY 2008 and remained the same from FY 2008 to FY 2009. Between FY 2007 and FY 2008, reconviction and reincarceration rates both decreased.
- Youth Industries – Rearrest rates decreased from FY 2007 to FY 2008 and increased from FY 2008 to FY 2009. (An unusually small number of residents were released in FY 2008). Reconviction and reincarceration rates both decreased between FY 2007 and FY 2008.
- Hanover JCC Junior Reserve Officer Training Corps (JROTC) – All reoffense rates increased during the time periods shown in the table above.
- Residential Substance Abuse Treatment (RSAT) Program – Rearrest rates increased from FY 2007 to FY 2008 and decreased from FY 2008 to FY 2009. Between FY 2007 and FY 2008, reconviction rates increased while reincarceration rates decreased. The RSAT program only serves females in the JCCs (see pages 180 -182 for the reoffense rates for female JCC Releases).
- Halfway Houses – Rearrest rates increased from FY 2007 to FY 2008 and decreased between FY 2008 and FY 2009. Both reconviction and reincarceration rates increased between FY 2007 and FY 2008.
- Post-Dispositional Detention (with programs) – Rearrest rates decreased from FY 2007 to FY 2008 and increased from FY 2008 to FY 2009. Between FY 2007 and FY 2008, reconviction rates decreased while reincarceration rates increased. Although juveniles placed into post-dispositional programs were not in the JCCs, a “reincarceration” rate is reported to illustrate the rate of their return to a secure setting.

Diverted Intakes (Not Included in the Table Above):

- Of the 12,842 juveniles with a first-time diversion in FY 2009, 15.4% were rearrested within 12 months for a new offense. (Note: this is not comparable to Data Resource Guides prior to FY 2009 due to methodological changes).

Appendix E LENGTH OF STAY (LOS) GUIDELINES (EFFECTIVE JULY 1, 2008)

Two tables are used in determining a resident's length of stay.

- Table I assigns the level of severity for (a) the most serious current committing offense and (b) the most serious prior offense. The resulting two numbers are combined in a pattern (a)-(b) for further calculation.
- Table II accounts for chronic offense behavior that may increase the resident's initial length of stay calculation.

Determining a resident's initial length of stay at the time he/she enters direct care is a three-step process:

1. Determining the most serious committing offense. The most serious committing offense is assigned a severity level from 1 through 4 as indicated on Table I.
2. Determining the most serious prior offense. The most serious prior offense is assigned a severity level from 1 through 4 as indicated on Table I.
3. Adjustment for chronic offense behavior as indicated on Table II.
  - The resident's entire delinquent and criminal histories, except the two offenses used as the most serious committing offense and the most serious prior offense, are examined; and each delinquent and criminal offense will be given points as follows:
    - one point for each Class 1 misdemeanor; and
    - two points for each felony

TABLE I: SEVERITY LEVEL FOR CURRENT AND PRIOR OFFENSES

Level	Type of Offense	Examples
Level 1 <sup>1</sup>	Class 1 Misdemeanors	Simple Assault; Petit Larceny
Level 2	Class 4, 5, and 6 Felonies; Unclassified felonies carrying a maximum sentence of 10 years	Unauthorized Use of an Auto; Possession of a Schedule I or II Substance; Voluntary and Involuntary Manslaughter
Level 3	Class 3 Felonies; Unclassified felonies carrying a maximum sentence of 20 years; Unclassified non-person felonies carrying a maximum sentence of more than 20 years	Burglary of Dwelling with Intent; Grand Larceny; Aggravated Involuntary Manslaughter
Level 4	Class 1 and 2 Felonies; Unclassified felony offenses against persons carrying a maximum sentence of more than 20 years	Armed Robbery; Rape; Murder

TABLE II: INITIAL LOS STEPS AND ADJUSTMENTS TO DETERMINE LOS RANGE

TOTAL RISK SCORE		_____

RISK ASSESSMENT INSTRUCTIONS

RISK INSTRUMENT DEFINITIONS

1. Age at First Referral to CSU - Determine the youth's age at the time he/she was first referred to the CSU for a delinquent or status offense. Do not include referrals for dependency or custody. The outcome (e.g., diverted, petitioned) of the first referral does not matter.
2. Number of Adjudicated Offenses Disposed of at Current Disposition - This is a count of the number of ADJUDICATED OFFENSES that were/are to be disposed of at the current dispositional hearing. Do not include any offenses/charges that were not adjudicated. In counting adjudicated offenses, count only those that represented separate incidents. If a youth was adjudicated for two burglaries that occurred on two different nights that is two adjudications. However, if a youth was involved in a robbery and got charged/adjudicated for multiple counts of lesser included offenses (e.g., robbery, assault, theft) that should be counted as one offense, not three.
3. Total Petitions for Violent Offenses - This is a count of all PETITIONS for violent offenses in the youth's record. Be sure to count any and all petitions for violent offenses that occurred up to the date of the current disposition (even if they have not yet been adjudicated or disposed of). The petitions must reflect separate incidents, not multiple charges arising from the same incident. Violent offenses include all offenses against persons that are assaultive in nature including felony and misdemeanor assaults, kidnapping, murder, armed robbery, and robbery, carjacking, sexual assaults, etc.
4. Total Petitions for Drug or Conspiracy Offenses - This is a count of all PETITIONS in the youth's record for drug charges (sales, possession with intent to sell, use, possession) or for conspiracy charges. Count only those petitions arising from separate incidents, not multiple charges arising from the same incident. If a youth gets arrested for drug sales and gets three separate petitions alleging sales and possession, that is one incident (not two) and should be counted as one petition. Be sure to count any and all drug or conspiracy petitions that occurred up to the date of the current disposition.
5. Types of Petitions for Property Offenses - This is a count of the number of different TYPES of property offense petitions. It is not a count of the total number of petitions for property offenses. There are a total of five different types of property offenses that are considered: burglary; larceny; fraud; arson; and trespass/vandalism. Check the youth's entire record to determine how many of these different types the youth has been petitioned for. As above, only count petitions arising from separate incidents. If a youth committed one burglary during which he stole something, and was petitioned for burglary and theft, that's one petition. In such cases, count the most serious type. Be sure to count any and all property offense petitions that occurred up to the current disposition.
6. Substance Abuse - Indicate the degree to which drug/alcohol involvement has affected youth's normal functioning in the two years prior to the current disposition. Consider both frequency (e.g., "occasional", "frequent") and effect of use ("some" or "serious disruption/interference").
  - No Problem/experimentation: no use or occasional use that does not result in disruption of functioning. Uses less than once per month; OR more frequent use but relationships with parents not strained over use or involvement with using peers; AND no school problems associated with use; AND no arrests for D/A related offenses (within past two years).
  - Problematic: use of substances is associated with some or major disruption of functioning. Family relationships may have become strained over use; OR strong ties to D/A involved peers; OR deterioration in school performance believed to be drug/alcohol related; OR one or more school disciplinary actions related to substance abuse; OR one or more substance abuse-related arrests (past two years); OR any referral in past two years for out-patient or in-patient treatment for D/A abuse; OR admitted or diagnosed dependency.
7. School Status- Indicate whether the youth is enrolled and attending school, or has been expelled or has dropped out. If the youth has truancy problems, but is still going to school, he/she should be given a score of "0". However, if the youth has been truant for more than half the days in the last 9 months of school, consider them to have "dropped out" (and score "2").
8. Peer relationships - Use the definitions below to guide the scoring of this item.
  - No negative associations or youth is a loner: friends not known to be delinquent or to have influenced youth's involvement in delinquent behavior- no more than one referral involving co-defendants; OR youth has no/few friends; engages in solitary pursuits and/or spends most time with much younger children.
  - Some delinquent peers: some companions involved in delinquent behavior. Has had co-defendants in 2-3 arrests and/or some friends have been referred to juvenile court.
  - Mostly delinquent peers: primary peer group has a strong delinquent orientation and/or most friends have been referred to juvenile court, and/or four or more arrests involving codefendants; and or youth is a gang or posse member or affiliate.
9. History of Runaways/Escapes - Indicate whether the youth has a history of multiple runaways from home (defined as being gone for 24 hours or more) OR had ever runaway or escaped from a placement facility (secure or non-secure). The time frame for this question is "ever".
10. Referred to DSS - Indicate whether the youth was ever referred to DSS as a victim of child abuse of neglect. It does not matter if the allegation was founded/substantiated or not.
11. Family Functioning Characteristics- Use the definitions below to determine the extent of family disorganization.
  - No Problem: family functioning was basically stable and supportive. Physical and emotional needs of youth were being met. Parental discipline and control were generally effective.
  - Some Disorganization: family problems interfered with youth functioning (or youth problems interfered with family functioning). Parent-parent or parent-child conflict occurred frequently and at times was disruptive, OR parental discipline and control were often ineffective or inconsistent, OR there was residential instability or financial problems, or there had been; recent disruptive event such as divorce, remarriage or a death in the family.
  - Major Disorganization: problems severely inhibited the youth's ability to function. Youth's physical or emotional needs were not being met, OR parent rejecting of, or refused responsibility for youth, OR chronic, serious parental problems (financial, mental health, illness, criminality), OR parent-parent or parent-child conflict occurred consistently and created turmoil, OR repeated instances of family violence, OR parental discipline and control were almost non-existent, OR parents contributed to youth's delinquency.
12. Family Criminality - Indicate whether a parent figure or sibling (or both) was on probation/parole or incarcerated during the three years prior to the current disposition. Incarcerated means sentenced to incarceration (do not include pre-trial jail or detention.) If a parent OR a sibling had been on probation or incarcerated, score "1". If BOTH had been, score "2". Parent figure includes natural parents, step-parents and live-in boyfriends/girlfriends. Do not include aunts, uncles, or other relatives unless they are caretakers/parent figures.
